Giulia Dickinson, MA Arts and Project Management
MyMuseum

MyMuseum is an app that works with art galleries in the UK to help them collect the necessary data and reviews needed to write end of project/exhibition evaluations.

These evaluations are important as they are what release the final funds of a project from the Arts Council. Not only is it imperative for organisations to write these evaluations, but the app will also show the impact arts and culture have on society.

The app will work in collaboration with The Audience Agency and CultureCounts to help organisations understand what their audience thinks of them in an accessible format, easy to navigate for all.
