Matter of the Heart

Matter of the Heart explores the lived experiences of an unseen narrator, as he prepares for, undergoes and recovers from an open heart operation. Bringing to light the unstable relationship between object, body and nature through film, sound and installation; the work playfully mythologizes moments of the mundane, imbuing within them an impossibly coincidental fiction.

with his own, the relationship between image and sound remains nebulous. It is within this fracture of order that a series of filmic puzzles, witticisms and confessions form a potent whole.
