Symphony of Motion; The Spirit of Spinning Mandala

The project titled Symphony of Motion: The Spirit of Spinning Mandala represents a contemporary interpretation of the Buddhist Mandala, through a dynamic abstract form characterized by rotational movement. The installation centers around the core Mandala principle that energy converges at the nucleus. This showcase intriguingly incorporates, scientific and mathematical concepts to comprehend, fabricate, and present art as a meditative experience. The convergence of Fibonacci Sequences and traditional Buddhist art serves as a foundation for a captivating amalgamation of modern Western art and age-old artistic traditions. Furthermore, attendees can engage with the exhibition by employing a spinning apparatus to craft their own abstract compositions using an array of colors.
