I wish we preserved more

I wish we preserved more is an exploration of how educational space has changed & progressed at the Birmingham School of Art since its opening. I have conducted a series of collaborative collage workshops using archival and current imagery. Current students and alumni of the School of Art were invited to collage and have an informal discussion, and many shared memories and experiences they had whilst studying at the School of Art. Accompanying the collaborative collages are four digital collages presented on the wall, slightly elevated, with physical collage elements.

During the MA show, feel welcome to add your favorite art school memory to the shared memory wall.
